NUMBER DEAD MANY INJURED IN A TORNAO

Which Swept Northwestern Part of State Saturday Evening

TERRIFIC WINDSTORM CARRIES OFF HOMES, BARN AND STOCK

Doctors and Nurses Work All Night Using Flash-lights

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Lima, O., March 11.—Alexander Kemensky, four years old, died this morning from internal injuries received Saturday night during the tornado in Van Wert county, swelling the list of known dead to six. The Kemensky family lives in the Middlepoint neighborhood. His name first was reported Comiskey. The child was playing in the yard when a flying timber penetrated its abdomen. John Wiseman's condition was improved today. His wife, who was injured also is improved. Their home was completely swept away. It was in this home that Mrs. Charles Geyer was killed.

Charles Kiehl, thought to have been fatally injured when a flying timber passed completely through his body was improved today and he may live. "He was driving home in a buggy when the storm struck."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, March 11.—While reports continued to dribble in showing that Saturday's tornado wrought perhaps more than a million dollars damage in Van Wert and Paulding counties, where it did its greatest destruction, it is believed today that the number of deaths will not exceed six or seven. Five are known dead and there are several injured who may die.

Details of the havoc are not yet fully known, because of wrecked telephone and telegraph systems and blocked highways. The storm's path, which contains much evidence that the wind was a "twister," was as narrow as fifty yards in some places, while in other sections it spread into a wind storm miles wide.

Apparently its first fury was felt in the Canoy neighborhood, west of Van Wert. Wreckage shows it jumped Van Wert and then swooped down upon Middlepoint to the east. It then veered north, striking Miller City in Paulding county.

Where the tornado itself did not strike, a terrific windstorm did great damage, blowing down buildings, trees and damaging orchards.

That greater loss of life and more imposing loss of property was not left in the wake of the wind is due to the fact that it did not hit any of the larger cities. Van Wert felt the effects as did Lima, Ottawa and Tiffin. There was little damage in these places, however. Canoy, Miller City, Continental, Hamler, Desher and Napoleon suffered the most. Rural districts between these (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1.)

HARD TRAINING FOR SELECTS AT CAMP SHERIDAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., March 11.—The 45th and 146th infantry, with other outfits of the Buckeye division, today began the hardest two weeks of training work yet staged in Camp Sheridan.

Practically all attention will be given to bayonet and grenade work, with long practice marches and with some night patrol work wedged in. The artillery unit will spend all possible time on the range in actual firing practice.

The health report for last week showed a marked improvement with only a few cases of serious illness. Furloughs are being granted to the full quota of men—five per cent—and the plan of giving every man a visit home is being carried out.

MISS MORGAN SPEAKS IN CLEVELAND TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, March 11.—Miss Anne Morgan, sister of the present head of the New York banking house, delivered two addresses here today on the part that American men and women are playing in the rehabilitation of France.

At noon she spoke at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on the work of reconstruction in France and this afternoon she spoke before the members of the Women's City Club.

While in the city Miss Morgan is the guest of Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France.

NO CABINET CHANGES.
Madrid, Sunday, March 10.—Premier Marquis de Alhucemas who yesterday presented the resignation of the cabinet and declined to form a new ministry tonight yielded to the arguments of King Alfonso, and agreed to continue in office. No changes will be made in the cabinet.

SHE'S IN WAR RIGHT UP TO HER BEAUTIFUL EYES, THIS PEERESS

Viscountess Curzon.

The beautiful Viscountess Curzon is up to her eyes in war work—to use an American expression, as London has become accustomed to doing since the Canadians and Sammies have taught her how. She is one of England's most prominent younger peeresses and her enthusiasm as a war charity worker is boundless. She is a member of the well-known Curzon-Howe family and should not be confused with the Earl of Curzon's family.

GREAT ACTIVITY PREVAILS ALONG ARMY FRONTS IN FRANCE AND ITALY

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches.)

Raids on a considerable scale are now being carried out by the American troops on the Lorraine front in France. No less than three raiding operations of some importance in which American forces took the leading part, are reported in today's dispatches from the front. In two of these raids, carried out simultaneously, the Americans penetrated the German front to a depth of 600 yards, reaching the enemy's second line. They operated with the protection of barrage fire.

The Americans found the German trenches deserted and the only prisoners taken were two injured Germans found by a French flank party.

The Americans, however, caused great damage to the German positions by blowing up dugouts during their 45 minutes stay and captured large quantities of material. In the third raid further along the line the destruction effected by the artillery was completed by American engineers.

The French official statement of today refers to the concerted effort as a "bold raid" by American troops. In Italy there have been operations of some importance. The Austrians apparently made an attempt yesterday to cross the Piave river opposite Fagare, as the Italian war office today reports the destruction by Italian batteries of boats and rafts on the Piave river at this point. If such an effort were in preparation it was frustrated by the efficiency of the defensive fire.

Other dispatches report the bombardment of Naples by enemy aircraft who dropped 20 bombs in a residential section, seven occupants of buildings which were struck being Americans. The raid was one of an unusual character because of the length of the flight necessary to reach Naples, which is more than 300 miles south of the Austro-Italian battle line, and some 250 miles away from the nearest enemy territory on the Albanian coast to the east.

Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, the first American cabinet officer to visit Europe in an official capacity since the United States entered the war, is now in France for conferences with General Pershing and an inspection of the American troops and the positions they occupy on the front between Soissons and Alsace. The secretary's mission is purely military and has no diplomatic significance.

On board an American cruiser, Secretary Baker and his party eluded German submarines and arrived yesterday at a French seaport, whence he departed for Paris. After a few days in the French capital where he probably will meet President Poincare and Premier Clemenceau, the secretary will visit the American troops in the field.

BRITISH AVIATORS RAID THE GERMANS OVER BELGIUM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, March 11.—British aviators of the naval air service yesterday made a raid over Belgium, dropping bombs on the airfield and ammunition dump at Engel, the admiralty announces. Two fires were started. In aerial combats three enemy airplanes were destroyed and four others driven down out of control. All the British planes returned safely.

MEXICAN BANDITS KILLED BY RANGERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Laredo, Tex., March 11.—Between five and ten of the Mexican bandits who raided East Ranch, Thursday night were killed by Captain Ryan's company of rangers, according to Sergeant Willis, one of the posse. Willis reported that it was believed eight of the bandits escaped by scattering through the brush.

Washington, March 11.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks of the United States at the close of business Monday, March 4.

GERMAN DRIVE ON WESTERN FRONT IS STILL EXPECTED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 11.—Nothing has developed to indicate that the Germans have abandoned their plans for a great offensive in the west, says the war department's weekly review of the military situation published today. Meanwhile the allies, the statement continues, have taken alert defensive measures and are content to let the enemy break himself against their impregnable line.

The review discloses that the principal sector occupied by American troops is four and a half miles long and it emphasizes that the Americans hold trenches at four separate points on the French front. Germany's sweep into the heart of Russia is seen as another futile attempt to shift the center of the war from the western front.

DROWNED IN CEMETERY WHERE MOTHER WAS ATTENDING FUNERAL.

Marion, Ohio, March 11.—The nine year old son of James A. Walsh, Marion shoe dealer, was drowned accidentally yesterday while playing with a friend, Carl McDonald, on the ice in a small lake in the cemetery here. An hour's work with a pump motor saved McDonald's life. Mrs. Walsh was attending a funeral, the procession of which reached the cemetery shortly after the body of her son was taken from the water.

GERMANS LOSE HEAVILY ALONG BRITISH FRONTS

Heavy Artillery Fire Taking Place in France and Belgium

ENEMY FORCED TO ABANDON SEVERAL FORWARD POSITIONS

Balmy Weather Has Arrived and Spring Flowers Make Appearance

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
With the British Army in France and Belgium, Sunday, March 10, Heavy artillery fire was proceeding at various points along the tense British and German battle lines today but there has been no infantry action of importance since yesterday afternoon when the British in a violent counter-attack hurled the Germans from the post they succeeded in capturing in the region of Poeldershoek ridge Friday evening.

The British defenses here and south of the Houtholst forest, where the Germans also seized six posts on Friday morning, have been re-established after severe fighting in which the Germans lost heavily.

Both these attacks were but apologies for what the Germans had planned originally. They had intended to make a pretentious assault on the northern sector south of the Houtholst forest on February 20 to pinch off the British salient just southeast of the wood and gain a number of important positions. This became known to the British, however, through a deserter and they buried the Houtholst front under such an avalanche of shells that the enemy was forced to abandon his scheme. The Germans declined, nevertheless, to make a smaller attack Friday morning, which gained them six posts temporarily. The final result was that they were driven out with severe losses and also forced to abandon some of their own forward positions.

A strong attack had also been planned for February 28 against the important high ground held by the British in the region of Poeldershoek and southwest of that place. A prisoner taken by the British is said to have divulged the German plans. The British artillery effectively prevented the carrying out of this program and later German prisoners said their regiments had been paraded and informed that the attack had been postponed because the British had learned of it. The same prisoner said the attack had been put off until the morning of March 4.

Thursday the British gunners put down a terrific barrage and the Germans did not attempt to advance. Friday evening, however, they moved against Poeldershoek ridge under a smoke barrage and to the accompaniment of a heavy bombardment of the British positions.

The enemy occupied a number of posts along a narrow front and a hard fight followed. Early Saturday morning the British organized a counter attack, which, although executed gallantly, was without the desired result. A second counter attack was completely successful and the Germans were driven out.

One of the fronts of the war occurred near Poeldershoek ridge on Friday. The headquarters of a British company sustained three direct hits from German heavy guns and the building was demolished over the heads of the entire staff. When the infantry had cleared away the debris in an effort to reclaim the bodies, it was found that not a single officer had been injured, although some of them were suffering slightly from shock.

This has been another magnificent day. The balmy weather of the past few days which might properly belong to April or May, has brought out the leaves of the pussy willows and many woodland flowers. The ground still contains some frost but the roads are dry and dusty.

TROTSKY DISMISSED BECAUSE HE DID NOT FAVOR TREATY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, March 11.—Leon Trotsky was dismissed as Bolshevik foreign minister by Premier Lenin owing to a quarrel over the German peace terms, according to a dispatch dated Saturday in Petrograd. Trotsky held that the peace had been extorted by force and that no law recognized promises made under duress as obligatory. Therefore, he is reported to have said it was Russia's duty to fight, if only guerrilla warfare and the German treaty should not be ratified.

Premier Lenin, on the other hand, held that the treaty must be ratified and carried out on the theory that disastrous treaties do not necessarily annihilate nations as Prussia had proved several times.

STATE BANK CALL.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, March 11.—A call was issued by State bank superintendent today, requiring all state banks to make a report to him on the condition of their business on March 4.

HERE IS TRENCH WHERE FIRST U. S. OFFICER WAS HIT BY GERMAN SHELL

Dugout where Lieut. D. H. Harden was wounded.

French and American flags and a storied inscription mark the dugout in France where Lieut. De Vere H. Harden was wounded. He was the first American officer hit by a German shell since the Sammies entered the fighting. The officer's knee was torn, but he recovered and is back in the fighting.

SECRETARY OF WAR NEWTON D. BAKER ARRIVED SAFE IN PARIS THIS MORNING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, March 11.—Newton D. Baker, the American secretary of war, arrived in Paris this morning. He was received by General Pershing, General Tasker H. Bliss, the American chief of staff, French officers, representing Premier Clemenceau, and Ambassador Sharp.

The secretary's voyage was without incident.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 11.—Secretary Baker has arrived in France for an inspection of the American armies and a conference with military officials. The news of Mr. Baker's safe landing at a French port conveyed in an Associated Press dispatch last night, brought a formal announcement from the war department emphasizing that the secretary's visit was purely military and not diplomatic.

The war department also announced that Mr. Baker sailed from the United States about February 27, accompanied by Major General William Black, chief of engineers; Lieutenant Colonel M. L. Brett and Ralph Haynes, his private secretary.

Secretary Baker has not determined the length of time he will remain in France, said the announcement, "but his stay will be long enough to enable him to make a thorough inspection of the American forces abroad and hold important conferences with American military officers."

The statement added that his inspection tour would cover construction projects under way back of the American lines as well as a visit to the American headquarters.

Secretary Baker and his party left here without any attempt to conceal their movements, other than requesting their departure aboard an American cruiser.

The trip was decided upon after Mr. Baker had conferred with President Wilson.

SOME CONSOLATION! COST OF LIVING ON INCREASE IN GERMANY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 11.—The cost of living in Germany is increasing at the rate of forty-two per cent. a year, requiring the average German family to go into debt for the necessities of life. According to figures gathered by the bureau of labor statistics, average expenditures for families having incomes ranging from 100 to 200 marks is 22.05 marks. The average family only spends 26 cents a month for amusements.

AMERICAN VICTIM OF THE REVOLUTION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
An Atlantic Port, March 11.—Michael Ryan, an American, victim of a Costa Rican revolutionary disturbance, arrived here today on an American steamship and confirmed stories of an attack made on a passenger train between San Jose and Port Limon, late in February. Ryan returns home with left eye destroyed and bringing a suit of clothes containing 12 bullet holes.

Six passengers were killed and a great number wounded, Ryan said, by bullets fired from a machine gun. A train in which he was returning to Port Limon had taken to a siding to allow another to pass. The second train came up and men on it believed to be government troops opened fire. A number of Americans were in the car with Ryan. The latter was removed to a Port Limon hospital.

CASUALTY LIST OF GENERAL PERSHING REPORTED TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 11.—General Pershing's casualty report today shows four privates killed in action; four severely wounded, 21 slightly wounded; four died of wounds; eight from disease, and two from other causes. The list follows:

Killed in Action—Private Frank J. Osgood, Cook Linneig Fillingim, Privates Francisco Disabatine and Otis D. Green.

Wounded Severely—Privates Joe E. Bush, John E. Frayne, Hancel Vanhoose, Charles Goodisk.

Wounded—Privates Antoni Kalig and Charles B. Sandridge.

Wounded slightly—Corporal Edward J. Smith, Privates Charles A. Roberts, Floyd R. Leseman, Nassario Fagnetta, Emery Wolfe, Henry E. Steadman, Elmer Murley, Corporal Henry W. Dawson, Private Walter E. Moore, Corporal Herbert L. Livingstone, Private Joseph M. Land, Private Ben A. Koss, Sergeant George H. Bradley, Corporal H. G. Whiting, Privates Harold Jenkins, Carl R. Hanson, Paul O. Nelson, Verd P. Salth.

Died of Wounds—Privates Lawrence Wenell, Henry J. Sweeney, Sergeant Theodore Peterson, Private Jim F. Edgar.

Died of Pneumonia—Private William R. Rhodes, Sergeant C. Howard Peck, Jr., Privates James Magee, Herman Pape, Thomas J. Cate, Geo. Glenn.

Died of Fractured Skull—Wagoner John C. Collins.

Died of Meningitis—Private Fell Hall.

Died of Accident—First Lieutenant Arthur J. Perrault.

Died of Appendicitis—Private William R. Taylor.

The war department's new plan of issuing the casualties may be investigated by the senate military committee. Senator New of Indiana, today had his resolution, calling upon the department for information, referred to the committee, stating that he and other senators had received many criticisms of the order.

AMERICANS GO OVER TOP INTO ENEMY'S LINES

Brilliant Raids Executed by Our Troops in the Lorraine Sector

SWEEP PAST GERMAN FIRST LINE PENETRATING SECOND

Blew Up Dugouts, Brought Back Material and Important Papers

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
With the American Army in France, Sunday, March 10.—American troops, co-operating with the French have carried out three raids opposite the American sector in Lorraine. Two of the raids were executed simultaneously last night.

The Americans swept past the German first line and penetrated to the enemy's second line 600 yards back.

The two simultaneous raids, one northwest and one northeast of * * * (deleted) were made after intense artillery preparation lasting for four hours, in which the German positions were leveled. At midnight two forces, each one of * * * (deleted) with small French forces on their flanks, moved upon the German objectives behind a creeping barrage, each on a front of 600 yards. When the Americans reached the enemy first lines, the barrage was lifted so as to box in the German positions at both points.

The men dropped into the enemy's trenches, expecting a hand-to-hand fight, but found the Germans had fled. Continuing the advance, the Americans went forward 600 yards to the second German line. All the time American machine gunners were firing on each flank of the two parties to prevent the enemy from undertaking flanking operations. One French flank party found two wounded Germans in a dugout and took them prisoner. The Americans found none.

The Americans remained for forty-five minutes in the enemy lines. They found excellent concrete dugouts, which they blew up, and also brought back large quantities of material and valuable papers. While they were in the enemy lines German artillery began a vigorous counter barrage. It was quickly silenced by American heavy and light artillery, which hurled large quantities of gas shells on the batteries.

An American trench mortar battery, the homes of most of whose men are * * * (deleted) participated in the artillery action preceding the raid, helping to level the enemy positions. The artillery, both light and heavy, was manned by soldiers mostly from * * * (deleted) and the engineers from * * * (deleted).

Soon after these two raids, had been carried out the Americans staged another at a point further along the line to the right. They went over the top after artillery preparation of forty-five minutes, in which the enemy's positions attacked were obliterated. At this place the dugouts were found to have been constructed principally of logs. Engineers accompanying the raiding party completed the artillery's work of destruction. The American infantrymen who took * * * (deleted) and the engineers from * * * (deleted).

The raids were carried skillfully and but for the fact that the Germans fled more prisoners doubtless would have been taken. The American gas shells are believed to have caused many casualties among the enemy. No Americans are unaccounted for.

WILL EDUCATE 100 FRENCH GIRLS IN UNITED STATES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, March 11.—In co-operation with the United States Bureau of education and the French authorities, the association of American colleges is planning to bring 100 French girls to this country for the academic year of 1918 and 1919 for attendance in American colleges on scholarships.

The plan is for each of the colleges co-operating to take one or two girls and to pay their room, board, tuition, and fees while in this country. The French government is expected to pay the traveling expenses, clothes and incidentals of the students.

The association will send a representative to France in the near future who will select the candidates. One requirement is that each girl must speak English.

MAY SEND CHICKS BY PARCEL POST

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 11.—Live chicks may be sent by parcel post after March 15, provided they are properly prepared for mailing. In announcing this decision today the postoffice order said chicks could not be insured or sent C. O. D. nor carried to destinations more than 72 hours mailing distance.

NUMBER DEAD MANY INJURED IN A TORNADO

places bore the brunt of the wind's force. There is no estimate of the number of farm houses and outbuildings wrecked, but there were scores. Loss of life was greatest at Middlepoint. Here Rexford Lee, aged 12, Mrs. Charles Greer and Mrs. William Geyer, 72, were killed. Pearl Bott, 26, of Cloverdale was killed and his brother Oscar was injured so severely internally that he may die. Harry Perry, aged 12, whose parents live a few miles west of Van Wert, is the other known dead.

Charles Rike who lives near Van Wert was injured badly and six members of the Showalter family in the same county, were injured. They were seated at the supper table when the roof of their home was blown away and the walls collapsed. Abraham Showalter, 67, and Mrs. Showalter were injured internally. Myrtle, aged 7, is in a serious condition from a broken jaw and other injuries. Gaylor, aged 15 had a leg broken; Floyd, 12, had part of his right hand torn away and Edith, 9, injured internally. Alexander Comiskey, aged 4, of Middlepoint perhaps was fatally injured when a piece of flying timber penetrated his abdomen, tearing a great hole. He was outside the house and no member of the family knew just how the accident happened.

The Wiseman home was wrecked at Middlepoint. Mrs. Geyer, mother of Mrs. Wiseman, was killed; John Wiseman had a leg broken and Mrs. Wiseman's arm was broken. The Joseph Glass home of Miller City was wrecked. Glass sustained six broken ribs and a broken leg and Mrs. Glass a broken arm and was scalded severely.

There are scores of others in Van Wert and Paulding counties nursing injuries of a more or less serious nature, many of them broken limbs. Freaks of the twister were typical of its kind. Great stones were moved, water blown from ponds, mud stripped from roads and ditches in places, chickens literally picked alive, homes scattered for miles, animals carried considerable distance, some without being injured and other freaks played.

The Van Wert county hospital, cut off from its light source, saw doctors and nurses working all Saturday night aiding the injured by vivid flares of pocket searchlights. Scores from the towns in the devastated district went to the relief of the stricken. Fortunate farmers cared for their unfortunate neighbors and in more than one community volunteer searching parties went out all day yesterday helping round up livestock that had wandered or blown away, looking for household articles or valuables that the wind had carried off from demolished homes.

There were hundreds of visitors in the stricken section all day yesterday. Automobile parties braved tree-straw roads to follow the path of the storm.

GREAT ACTIVITY ALONG ARMY FRONTS

The artillery on the western front has not yet resulted in any determined attack by either of the opposing forces. The Germans are more active on the British and Belgian fronts than elsewhere. Near Kippe, in Flanders, the Belgians have driven the enemy from parts of trenches he took several days ago.

Recent German attacks on the British lines in the Ypres area were checked through British knowledge of enemy plans gained from deserters and prisoners. The enemy intended to take important positions south of Houtholst forest, but heavy British artillery fire prevented a major effort and this strong British defense threw back the strong local attacks the Germans carried out.

On the American sector northwest of Toul the artillery and aerial activity has increased. American gunners have shelled effectively various enemy targets opposite the American trenches.

The German reply was without result. German airplanes have attacked American trenches with machine gun fire while French gunners brought down an enemy airplane within the American lines.

Progress is being made by the British armies in Mesopotamia and Palestine. Eighty miles west of Bagdad on the Euphrates river the British have occupied Hit, the Turks retreating without opposition. Advancing northward in Palestine, General Allenby's forces have gained ground immediately west of the Jordan and along both sides of the Jerusalem-Nabulus road. The Turks resisted strongly in both places. On the Jerusalem-Nabulus road, the British advance was two or three miles on a front of 13 miles.

FORMER NEWARK BOY IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

Clarence Schott, a Newark boy, who was in grief the greater part of the time and who was sent to the Mansfield reformatory from here in 1911 on a petit larceny charge, is again arrested, and on a serious charge.

Schott was trailed from Akron to Dayton, where at the former city he is alleged to have participated in more than a dozen holdups. He was arrested at Dayton and is said by the police of that city to have confessed to participation in a long series of holdups, which have been terrorizing Akron storekeepers for more than a month. It is said by police to be one of the former bandits who have made a practice of holding up small cash groceries on Friday and Saturday nights, making their escape in a waiting taxicab.

'GAS' ATTACKS WILL BE NOTHING NEW TO THE NATIONAL ARMY MEN WHEN THEY MEET THE 'HUN'

A class of instruction in the use of the gas masks at one of the national army camps (above) and men learning the use of the "flapper" fan.

The American troops now fighting in France have found the "gas" training they had received before reaching the trenches to be very valuable in the many gas attacks they encountered and the national army men in this country are being trained as carefully. The men are drilled in the use of the gas masks and after proper practice they are able to put them on very quickly. The "flapper" fan is also an important instrument of defense against the enemy gasses. The handle is two feet long and the fan part is made of two square feet of stout canvas. By rhythmic beating of the bottom of the trench, throwing the fan well up after each blow, air currents soon displace the gas.

NUMBER FINED FOR INTOXICATION IN THE POLICE COURT

Police court this morning found five cases of intoxication awaiting the mayor, and all were given the customary fine.

A jovial couple, Albert Wilson and his wife Sadie also caught the mayor on a charge of intoxication. Albert is 71 years old and Sadie said she was 55. They gave their residence as Columbus and had been around Main street and the square all Saturday afternoon and evening, attracting attention by their quarreling. The man had two tickets to Columbus and the mayor suspended sentence after insisting that the couple make use of the tickets and leave the city.

CRITICISM MADE OF GERMAN INTRIGUES

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, March 11.—Germany's commercial intrigues were criticized in the senate today during debate on administration amendments to the deficiency bill empowering the president to sell enemy property and acquire the Hoboken piers of the North German Lloyd and Hamburg American steamship lines. Approval of the amendments was looked for but opposition was in evidence to the proposal to take over the Hoboken piers.

AMERICAN ENGINEERS CAPTURED IN CHINA

(Associated Press Telegram) Peking, Friday, March 8.—Two American engineers, Nyl and Purcell, have been robbed and captured by bandits near Yehsein in the province of Honan. A Chinese assistant also was taken prisoner. The party was on its way to inspect a survey site and a proposed railway between Chokwaikow and Sianjo yangfu. They were carrying a large sum of money with which to pay survey parties. An escort of 20 soldiers resisted the bandits until their ammunition was exhausted, when the party surrendered. Two of the Chinese escaped and reported the outrage.

WETS AND DRY LINE UP FOR HARD FIGHT

(Associated Press Telegram) Albany, N. Y., March 11.—Fighting lines of the wets and drys were drawn up today for legislative engagements this week upon which depend New York's attitude toward ratification of the federal prohibition amendment.

Interest in the situation was heightened by an emphatic denial by Governor Whitman of published reports that he would veto the Emerson-Malone bill which would provide for a referendum this fall upon the ratification question. He said he would withhold his views until the measure reached him.

The immediate occasion of the line-up of opposing forces was a hearing before a senate committee upon two bills. One would provide for prohibition during the war period, except for beer and light wines. The other would make provision for an amendment to the state constitution to make the state dry permanently.

STERILIZERS FOR OVERSEAS ARMY

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, March 11.—Ten sterilizing machines, each weighing 8000 pounds, said to be the latest pieces of disinfecting apparatus ever manufactured, have been completed for shipment to the American overseas forces, it was announced today.

By use of the apparatus it is expected the danger of typhus fever and other diseases among the troops will be reduced to a minimum.

LOBBYING STRIKE CLOSES DOWN NUMBER COTTON MILLS

(Associated Press Telegram) Fall River, Mass., March 11.—Five thousand cotton mill operatives in this city were told today, according to figures compiled at noon by the police, the case of a strike of 124 union firemen whose demands for shorter hours and a closed shop were rejected last week by the Massachusetts Association. Four of the cotton mills of the American Printing company and the plants of the American Linen company were closed at noon today. Cotton mills were closed with the 11 of a hundred men.

GEO. VON L. MEYER, FORMER CABINET MEMBER, IS DEAD

Boston, March 10.—George Von L. Meyer, former cabinet member and diplomat, died at his home here at 11:15 Saturday night, after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Meyer was stricken in January with an attack of pleurisy and this apparently weakened him and made it more difficult to resist the effects of a tumor of the liver, from which he died. It was not known until a few days ago, however, that his condition was serious. Mr. Meyer's last public appearance was on Feb. 10, when he attended a Sunday mass meeting at Mount Temple, to discuss plans for helping Italy and her people in distress because of war. He was one of the principal speakers.

CAMP SHERMAN SELECTS TRAIN IN CAMOUFLAGE

(Associated Press Telegram)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., March 11.—Training in camouflage and other methods of concealment is being given Camp Sherman selects. Artillery men are now undergoing a course of instruction in camouflaging their field pieces and other equipment, while working out practical problems. Single batteries were at first taken out. As soon as each battery in a regiment has completed its work, whole battalions are to be turned loose on the problems of concealing their guns properly. Later it is possible that the entire regiments and even the brigade may have an opportunity to perform similar feats.

The officers of the unit designated to work out the problem first hold a conference in which the proposition is worked out on a map of the ground surrounding the cantonment. Then the troops are marched to the terrain involved and the positions are occupied the same as they would be in actual battle, except there is no firing. Officers say for all practical purposes the same results can be obtained.

The gunners are properly posted, the guns theoretically concealed from any observant enemies, limbers and caissons are properly protected, as is the ammunition supply. Officers and selects assigned to observe the results of the theoretical firing crawl forward to observation posts from where they signal to the effect of the firing. Shelters for men and material are picked and theoretically constructed in such fashion as to deceive the enemy.

The men are taught to cook their own rations which are carried along in their packs so that they can take care of themselves in case of emergency. They are taught first aid methods so as to be able to help themselves and their comrades in case of wounds. Officers and men alike are pleased with the results of their work up to date. The organization designated to work out problems on a certain day leaves camp early in the morning to occupy its ground and does not return until time for evening mess.

B. W. Teachout, of Cleveland, has arrived here to take charge of all Y. M. C. A. work in camp, replacing D. W. Weist, also of Cleveland, general secretary of the camp who was last week chosen to go to France for Y. M. C. A. work. Mr. Teachout was formerly connected with the Cleveland Y. M. C. A.

It was stated Mr. Weist will leave here some time within the next ten days preparatory to going to his new post. It is not known when the six other Y. M. C. A. secretaries from this cantonment who were approved by the Y. M. C. A. personnel bureau at the Cleveland conference for overseas service will be called.

Candidates in the officers' training camp today starting their tenth week of training, are on their last lap of the work, five more weeks remaining. Preliminary instruction in small arm firing is scheduled for the next week under the personal instruction of Lieutenant Colonel A. J. MacNab, reputed to be the best shooting coach in the United States army. Next week will be spent on the rifle range, the next two in the trenches and the final fortnight in instructive administrative work, according to present plans.

Two batteries of artillery and a company of infantry were reported quarantined today for scarlet fever as follows: Battery A, 324th heavy field artillery and battery E, 322nd light field artillery, and the headquarters of the 239th infantry.

Two officers at the base hospital were reported promoted. First Lieutenant William P. Stephenson, of Quincy, Ill., being advanced to a captaincy, as was First Lieutenant F. W. Hicken of Cleveland. Captain Stephenson is an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist while Captain Hicken had charge of the officers ward.

CAMPAIGN STARTS FOR FOOD CONSERVATION

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, March 11.—The campaign of the United States Food Administration to "carry the message of food conservation by means of the spoken word" begins in Ohio today, with speakers from the administration appearing in six cities of the state.

The speakers have been touring the western states and are to be in Ohio until March 23. They will speak in 78 counties and towns in sixty-six counties.

State food administration officials stated last night that each speaker has been given a route by the state administration and while they are working under the national administration, while in Ohio they will be under the direction of the state administration.

The following speakers will appear at the places designated tonight:

No, Maude, dear, capital punishment is not always meted out in Washington.

LICKING ORGANIZED FOR WAR LEADERS HAVING BEEN SELECTED FOR EVERY TOWNSHIP IN COUNTY

During the year of 1917 the people of Licking county oversubscribed their share of the two Liberty loans, gave $62,000 to the Red Cross, $34,000 to the Y. M. C. A. war work and $4000 to the Knights of Columbus war fund besides contributing liberally to other activities incident to the war.

Realizing that the demand for 1918 will be greater than that of the past year and recognizing the fact that the contributions and the investment in government bonds were made by a small percentage of the total population, estimated at a little more than 61,000 people, plans for an efficient county-wide war work organization have just been perfected.

The new Licking County War Work organization reaches into every precinct in the county and it is manned by patriotic citizens who are able to produce the desired results.

Several weeks ago a group of nearly 100 Newark men representing all classes of citizens assembled to discuss the war and to plan for the year's work. Out of that meeting grew the plan of a county war work organization.

Edwin C. Wright, cashier of the First National bank of Newark, was made general chairman and C. G. Barber, secretary. The plan adopted called for the selection of five executive committees from Newark and these men were chosen: C. Harrington Davis, Roderic Jones, John J. Carroll, W. H. Mazy and A. R. Lindorf. A committee was named to bring the proposed organization to the attention of the people in the villages and rural districts and this committee headed by Mr. Davis has had zero weather and impassable roads to contend with. In spite of obstacles the work was carried to a successful conclusion and announcement was made a few days ago that a township chairman had been selected for every one of the twenty-six townships. These men were not only selected with great care but they were "solid on the proposition." In other words none but men capable of strong leadership were approached and none was assigned to the task before he understood what was expected of him and agreed to give his best effort to the work.

The 26 men having just been secured, a meeting of these men with the Newark executive committee and a few others who are actively engaged in promoting the war activities here at the present time was held Sunday afternoon in the Newark Masonic temple where the organization of the executive committee for the county was completed.

After dinner Chairman Wright had Acting Secretary Newark call the roll sixteen of the 26 township chairmen responding. The condition of the country roads in some sections of the county made travel difficult and that was responsible for the absence of nearly all of the ten who were not present. Mr. Wright spoke briefly on the purpose and necessity of a war work organization for Licking county and declared that without doubt the United States has reached the most critical period of its history creating a situation that calls for service and sacrifice from every loyal citizen. Mr. Wright was followed by Mr. Davis, who in a straight from the shoulder and admirably worded address put the proposition before the men assembled.

Following Mr. Davis' detailed explanation of what has been done and what is before the county organization the sixteen township chairmen conducted an election by ballot to choose the five county members of the executive committee. Prof. C. D. Coons of Granville presided at that meeting. These five men were named: Hon. John S. Graham of McKean township; S. A. Mears of Hanover; R. B. Buxton of Johnstown; J. L. Moore of Lima township, and F. R. Lloyd of Washington township.

Following is a list of the twenty-six township chairmen, the first sixteen of whom were present at Sunday's meeting with the exception of Mr. Lloyd, who was represented at the meeting by Mr. W. A. Bove of Utica:

C. W. Moore, Madison township.
T. F. Noland, Perry township.
J. M. Fowler, Hanover township.
C. C. Bricker, Harrison township.
G. W. Brown, Lima township.
J. W. Bartholow, Union township.
C. D. Coons, Granville township.
H. T. Smith, St. Albans township.
R. B. Buxton, Monroe township.
H. R. P. Miller, Hartford township.
E. H. Stradley, Mary Ann township.
S. L. Duthimer, Franklin township.
Thomas Richards, Newark township.
A. G. Mikessell, Bennington township.
F. R. Lloyd, Washington township.
A. E. Hoskinson, McKean township.
A. E. Divan, Fallsbury township.
Dr. Geo. H. Brownell, Jersey township.
Dr. C. D. Watkins, Etna township.
S. M. Hamilton, Eden township.
T. C. Jury, Licking township.
Chas. D. Rankin, Bowling Green township.
C. M. Robinson, Hopewell township.
A. Weaver, Newton township.
Dr. Allen Coburn, Burlington township.

Each township chairman has chosen or will within a few days select from six to a dozen district leaders, depending upon the territory embraced in his township and this group in the villages and country precincts will work with the 208 Newark men who have all been selected for service. There are ten members of the executive committee, eight division leaders in Newark and each has five captains who in turn have five workers. The city and country members of the organization including men assigned to special duty—publicity, speakers bureau and so forth—will make a total of approximately 600 men who are pledged to give the best that is in them to carry on the war work of 1918.

Just what is expected of the new organization has not as yet been announced and will not be announced until the new executive committee meets early this week to formulate a plan of action. Sentiment seems to favor one big drive similar to the plan used recently in Columbus when a war chest was filled with $3,000,000. Should that plan of action be adopted it seems probable that a fund of $300,000 would be raised in this county. Last year the county raised $100,000 for the Y. M. C. A. Red Cross and K. of C. Chairman Wright pointed out, however, that there is work ahead of the new organization just as important as that of raising money for war contributions. He referred to the war savings campaign, the government's $2,000,000,000 offering of war savings stamps of which this county is asked to buy $4,000 worth daily this year, to the food conservation work, to the importance of getting labor to the farms during the planting and harvesting seasons, to the Third Liberty loan which comes early in April and also to the great work of acquainting the people with war facts and of advising the proper authorities of acts or words of disloyalty that may be seen or heard.

Mr. J. M. Fowler of Hanover, Mr. Harry Miller of Croton, Mr. C. C. Bricker of Harrison township, Professor Coons of Granville, Prof. F. Moninger, chairman of the speakers bureau and C. H. Spencer, chairman of the war savings committee were each called upon to speak. The men from the rural sections of the county pledged their wholehearted support to the work and expressed confidence that the people of the country and village districts will gladly join hands with the Newark people in bringing to a successful conclusion the efforts of the county war work committees.

Before adjournment photographs of the group were taken by Frank A. Chase and Chairman Wright. He announced that Rev. G. B. Schmitt would give his illustrated war lecture at Utica Tuesday night of this week and would be glad to appear elsewhere in the county in the interest of the war work campaign.

SECOND SON TO DIE IN SERVICE OF HIS COUNTRY

Samuel W. Brown, 36, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brown, north Thirteenth street, died at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Sunday morning at 4 o'clock of pneumonia. He is survived by his wife and one son, aged 7, of Thirteenth street, two brothers, James of the home and Robert of the Fourth Infantry band, Newport News, Va.

The deceased was a member of Company A, 5th Battalion, U. S. Guards and enlisted at Columbus on January 30, 1918. He was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Brown to die in the service of the country. William O., a member of the Third Cavalry, U. S. A. died in the Philippines on June 20, 1907.

Samuel was a member of Newark Lodge 13, Knights of Pythias. The funeral arrangements have not been made on account of the uncertainty of the arrival of the remains.

COUNTY AGENT TO TALK AT HEBRON

Mr. L. L. Mowls, Licking County Farm agent will meet with the farmers of Union township at the Hebron High school Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to discuss the seed corn situation in the county.

This should prove a good chance for the farmers of that vicinity to meet Mr. Mowls and learn how he may be of greatest benefit to them.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of The Advocate:—I have received the bronze medal presented by the people of Licking county, Ohio, which you sent me and wish to express my appreciation of it. The men in this camp are buying the U. S. War Savings Stamps freely. A good many are making allotments in order to help their loved ones at home. We are all anxious for the time to come when we shall have finished our training and can see active service. Although most of us were perfect strangers when we arrived on the island a few weeks ago, we are now like lifetime friends. We think Paris Island would be hard to beat for a training camp. We who are from farther north would like to send home some of our fine warm weather suit to give you a taste of how comfortable it is here during the winter months. I thank you again for the medal I received from the people of Licking county. Yours truly, Private Harry E. Wright, 79th Company, Marine Barracks, Paris, Island, S. C.

SAMUEL R. BARR DIES AS RESULT RECENT INJURY

Samuel R. Barr, superintendent of "the relief department of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company", Baltimore, Md., was struck by an automobile while crossing a street in that city on Sunday evening, March 3. He remained unconscious until March 6, when he died at the age of seventy-five years.

Superintendent Barr, generally known among officials and employees as Doctor Barr, had been in active service with the B. & O. railroad company from the first day of May, 1880, until the day of his being struck by the automobile.

It was on the first named date that President John W. Garrett of the Baltimore and Ohio inaugurated the first relief association of railroad employees in the United States.

He secured from government offices in Washington, D. C., Dr. W. T. Barnard as the first superintendent and Samuel R. Barr, his associate, as chief clerk and later as assistant superintendent. Some few years later Dr. Barnard became an assistant to the president and Dr. Barr was promoted to the superintendency. Still a few years later the relief association was merged into the relief department of the B. & O. railroad company.

Superintendent Barr continued to be the head of the department and proved to be a man of great executive ability. Under his management many new and valuable features were added to his department among which were the savings, building and loan, sanitary and welfare features all of which contributed greatly to the comfort, welfare, safety and happiness of thousands of railroad men.

By reason of Superintendent Barr being in daily touch with his medical staff he was soon to receive the title of "Doctor" conferred upon him by them and so became known to the employees as along the line as "Dr. Barr, chief of the relief department, and highly respected and honored by them for the good work he had done in their behalf.

Superintendent Barr was a humane man, his motto "give the men the benefit of the doubt," will be recalled by many of his medical examiners.

He was a working man and had said he wished to die in harness. He sought to do things, not a way to avoid doing things.

He was a company man, always endeavoring to do the company's work fully and well without shirking the responsibility.

He was a just man; having hundreds of men under his jurisdiction he gave to each his due and no charge of favoritism was ever brought against him.

Loyal but not the least of his many virtues was his sublime loyalty and devotion to his family and friends. His medical staff loved and respected him for his loyalty to his company while he was also loyal to them.

May the good Lord reward him in his everlasting rest, is the prayer of an humble subordinate and life long friend.

NEWARK BOYS IN GENOA, ITALY, ON U. S. TRANSPORT

Edward Lahley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lahley, Ridge avenue, has arrived at Genoa, Italy. In a card mailed a couple of weeks ago he stated that he was aboard a United States transport and was well and enjoying every minute of the trip. He had not seen any submarines but was in hopes that they would so that they might sink one. He stated that he was going to save up a few German trophies and ship them back to his brother, John J., the well-known 6-foot-6 tenor singer of the East End. Mr. Lahley writes that John Brown, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Brown, 365 East Main street, is aboard the vessel and is also well and enjoying the fine sea voyage.

25 Years Ago

From the Advocate, March 11, 1893. One of the prettiest social events of the season was given last evening by the Misses Lois and Edith Upson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Upson, at their home, North Third street.

The sad news reached the city this morning of the death of Mrs. Mary Varner of Licking township.

The H. H. Griggs Co. are having a special sale on kid gloves, all colors, for 67 cents a pair.

The house of J. Willis Robbins in the East End was entered last night by burglars but nothing was taken by them but a pocket book containing the sum of 25 cents.

Miss Edna Bailey, a student of Granville Female College, spent Sunday with Miss Wilma Fulton.

15 YEARS AGO.

From the Advocate, March 11, 1903. Thomas J. Hirst, one of the best known residents of Newark died at his home, 24 Clinton street, this morning.

Mrs. W. A. Ford of Valley street, gave a parcel shower last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Higginbotham.

The Coshocton lodge of Elks will give a circus at that place next week, a large number of local Elks will attend.

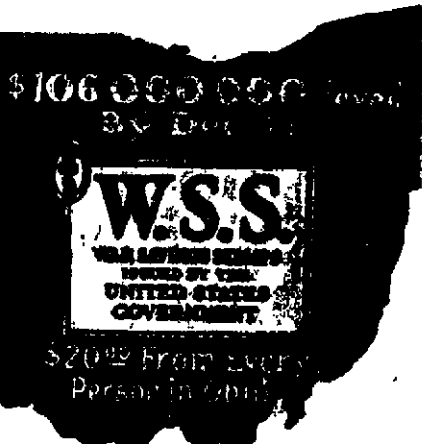

David H. Lewis of the Advocate office was called to Washington, D. C. Tuesday by the serious illness of his mother.

Miss Margaret Smith has accepted a position in the millinery store of O'Bannon & Co. on West Main street.

Mrs. John Meredith is visiting Mrs. W. E. Etalier at Zanesville.

Back These Boys With Your Dollars

A War Savings Stamp Is As Secure As a National Bank Note

Both are backed by the United States Government. About the only difference is that the War Savings Stamps pay you 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly on January 1st, 1923.

If you are pressed for money at any time, you can cash a War Savings Stamp for its current value at any money order postoffice on ten days' notice.

War Savings Stamps are convenient and easy investments,—no "red tape," and are backed by the entire resources of the people of the United States.

Every Stamp you buy helps to keep the Germans out of your own home. Every Stamp you buy brings you nearer to financial freedom.

This war will be won only when "Thrifty" becomes our watchword. Do it now!

Licking county is asked to buy $4000 worth of War Savings Stamps every week day this year—a total of $1,236,180 for 1918. That means $20 worth for every person in this county. When you buy War Savings Stamps you are giving nothing away, but are making the very best and safest investment in the world today. War Savings Stamps are better than money itself, because they grow more valuable every month and are not taxable. Remember, all of your money back, with interest, when you want it. Could Uncle Sam be fairer? The least thing anybody can do to help win the war is to loan money to the government, and yet loaning your money to Uncle Sam will be a tremendous help. Begin your savings account by buying Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps today, and keep it up through the year.

NEWARK DRUGGISTS

ARE OUD IN PRAISE OF HULL'S SUPERLATIVE

Newark druggists are very enthusiastic over the sale of Hull's Superlative. "We sell lots of it," several druggists said, "and are glad to recommend it and stand back of it for if the customer does not get the relief he thinks he is entitled to all he has to do is return the partly filled or empty bottle and get his money back."

Hull's Superlative has been doing a great work for more than 28 years. Hundreds of men and women from every part of the country have written in praise of this preparation, telling how it banished stomach troubles, nerve disorders, rheumatic conditions, colds, grip, tonsillitis and other ailments.

ANALYZED BY CHEMIST. Not many months ago Professor Cloyd M. Reeg, Dean of the Department of Science Findlay College, completed a very careful and thorough analysis of Hull's Superlative. Professor Reeg says "Hull's Superlative contains in very highly concentrated form the important salts and minerals of which the body is composed and which the blood, tissues and bones must contain in proper proportion in order to maintain a proper health balance."

"Hull's Superlative," continued the Professor, "is identical in principle to the great Schneider theory that is meeting with such pronounced success in the hands of thousands of physicians all over the country today. This preparation is made from seven roots, barks and one berry, and is a vitality builder rather than a medicine."

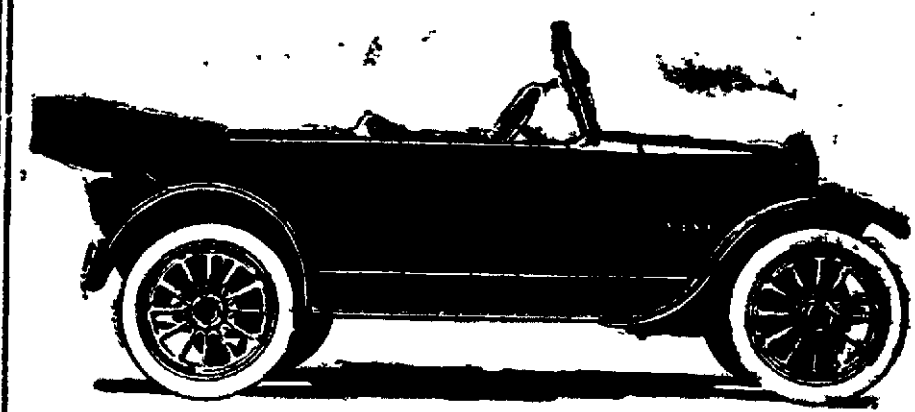

Hull's Superlative is sold by all druggists. Every bottle is guaranteed to give entire satisfaction, or the purchase price will be returned without comment, upon receipt by the druggist of the partly filled or empty bottle.

For sale by all druggists. —Advertisement. Try the Advocate Want Columns.

The Past That Makes The Present Possible

Year after year since 1851 the Western Union Telegraph Co. has gone ahead, growing in scope and public usefulness. Now it uses one million, five hundred thousand miles of wire—goes into twenty-six thousand cities, towns and hamlets—and gives work to fifty thousand employees.

Today under war conditions, thousands of our boys in khaki are safer, happier, better clothed, better housed and better equipped because there is such a thing as a world-wide telegraph system.

TEACHING EFFICIENCY.

Can efficiency in business methods be taught effectively in a public class room?

If it can, then we are about to become heavily indebted to the Newark Chamber of Commerce for starting a campaign of education along a most necessary line of reform.

We waste too much in this country. A family of Europeans could live on the food wasted in the average American household. Our farmers lose time in carrying hay and ensilage to feed livestock; they ought to group their barns in such a way as to save time and labor. Our manufacturers waste a lot of material in their operations.

Seventy-five per cent of the fuel value, the heat-making value, of coal goes up the chimney. Friction losses in power machinery are heavier than they need be.

Andrew Carnegie used to invite all his subordinates into conference every Monday at noon. The great steel business was then in its up-building period, long before it became the largest industrial corporation in the land. Every employee was urged to suggest efficiency ideas, and those who responded with valuable suggestions were given bonuses or fractional interests in the concern.

A series of conferences, the first of which will take place in the High School auditorium, Wednesday evening, is being planned by those back of this movement. R. E. Palmer will be the lecturer at this first gathering, and his subject will be "Efficiency and Your Job." This will be an open meeting, tickets for same can be obtained by calling at the Chamber of Commerce.

Our soldiers and sailors offer all they have for us. We must not use their sacrifices to enable us to live in comfort now. We can and must help them by spending less and producing more. Earn the right to stay at home when you buy War Savings stamps.

It might be as well for the striking shipbuilders to remember that at some time or other they will be looking for favorable legislation. Legislatures and congresses are elected by all the people, and they remember Uncle Sam's friends.

Our fat years may be followed by lean ones. If this has been a prosperous season for you, buy War Savings stamps and Thrift stamps and prepare for the lean year—it may come in 1923, when your War Savings certificate matures.

The people who keep mean men and dogs that roam around the country nights are probably among those who complain about the scarcity and high cost of lamb and mutton.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA.

"The Russian farmer is back at work on the land and living on his own produce," reports Charles L. Preston, a prominent New England shoe and leather man, who has just returned from a trip to Vladivostok on a special mission for the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce. "So far as food is concerned he is not badly off, but he is putting very little on the market. He barter for the little he needs in the way of manufactured goods, but will not accept money for his produce. He refuses to worry about the fluctuations in the value of the ruble."

Mr. Preston, who has spent many years in Russia, went to Russia on this occasion in behalf of the government to find out what could be done to facilitate the shipment of hides and skins to the United States, but found little encouragement for the near future. Farmers are not allowed to kill calves for a period of three years and only small quantities of other hides and skins are being bartered by the raisers. Old stocks are held in interior warehouses and by speculators, but there are no important supplies of hides and skins in or near Vladivostok.

The business stagnation in Russia, explains Mr. Preston, is due in part to the depreciation of the ruble and to restrictions on the banks. Transfer of money by banks from one city to another is forbidden, and depositors are not allowed to draw more than 250 rubles at a time. In ordinary times 250 rubles is equal to a trifle more than $125, but is worth a great deal less now. Developments in the Russian hide and skin business will continue to receive the careful attention of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, and plans are being made as an exhaustive report on the industry as it existed before the war, and during the war, and on the prospects for the future, as soon as such prospects can be discerned with any certainty.

TWO TYPES OF OFFICIALS.

The salesman for a large supply house dealing with municipalities was giving his experience the other day of the kinds of men he had to meet in his business. He was telling how he went into the office of a public official in a certain city, and found the boss out. The salesman got to jollying with the clerks, and turned around with a smile on his face to greet the head of the department who had just come in.

The latter thought the salesman was putting on the smile just to work him. He remarked in a sarcastic and arrogant way, that the salesman was mistaken if he thought he would get his business by any glad-hand methods. He was too old a bird to be caught by that game.

The salesman remarked that that was typical of the kind of man that used to hold municipal office. They were small men in big boots, puffed up with a sense of their authority. They were very wheedling and subservient to the public at election time. But at other periods they adopted a lordly manner, and were offish in meeting inquiry and criticism.

The atmosphere of the public municipal office should be just like any business office, filled with the same spirit of service. Officials should gladly meet inquiry and question on the part of the public, and stop any time to explain their methods to taxpayers and discuss suggestions for possible improvement.

They should meet salesmen more as one business man meets another, not with the lordly authority of a magnate who has favors to confer in return for considerations of various kinds. This is the spirit that seems to prevail more and more, and it makes for efficient administration.

STRUGGLE WITH MUD.

The struggle of the American people with mud, particularly in late winter and early spring, is one of the regular experiences of life in the rural districts. People who live in well-paved towns or along hard roads, do not realize what a handicap mud is to industry along the back roads of a country having soft soils.

Several of the congressmen went down to Camp Greene in North Carolina and struck mud. The visitors reported the mud at the cantonment as being a foot deep. On army wagons it was nearly up to the hubs of the wheels, and almost up to the bellies of the mules that drew them.

There are millions of miles of highways in this country where mud a foot deep is not at all unusual. While the mud season lasts travel over the highways is practically prohibited. It comes at a season when the farmers are preparing for spring work. The remnants of last fall's produce are also being hauled over.

You can save yourself a lot of trouble by not borrowing any.

the highways at a tremendous expense of time and horseflesh.

Not merely does this condition delay rural industry, but it must have a discouraging effect on all the country people. They must feel the decadence of a neighborhood that has to wallow through sloughs of despond every time it goes out on the roads. The ancient habit of scraping together the dust of the road from the gutters and heaping it up in the center aggravates muddy conditions. This dust is worn out road material having no binding power, and ready to turn into paste at the first application of moisture.

There are some soils that are naturally muddy and merely need the coming of spring rains to turn the roads into pig-sties. Industry cannot be prosperous in those localities until steps have been taken to rebuild such roads with some form of material superior to the original foundation.

Before sending for a team of horses to plough up his backyard, the amateur gardener should be sure the yard is big enough so that the horses and plow can be extended in a straight line.

While our country is unable to reach a maximum efficiency because of the shortage of labor, an army of people are still occupied peddling little piffling notions around from door to door.

After a lot of newspapers go out of business and consolidate with other papers, the print paper producers will wonder what they gained by their exorbitant prices.

The Germans are still not worrying about the American army, as they have it straight from Kaiser Bill that we will only have wooden guns for two years.

NEW OIL SOURCES.

(Boston Transcript.)

It will be welcome news to the allies that a great new oil field has been found in northwestern Texas. Oil which drives battleships and ammunition trucks on the firing line, which war supply work the world over demands by the million barrels, has been used in such ever-increasing quantities that the supply has sagged below the demand. The Kaiser and Carranza between them have managed to make the great Mexican fields more difficult to work, and even threatened the supply. Other, older sources have failed or run dry. The oil wells flowed first in Pennsylvania and, in less quantity, other eastern states. Then came Ohio and the middle west, followed by Kansas, Oklahoma, Mexico and Texas. Now we have a new field in an area between the Red and Colorado rivers in northwestern Texas, said to be 250 miles one way by 50 miles the other. It is confidently predicted by oil experts that these new fields will solve the oil supply problem for some time to come. Speculation in life there, but drilling for oil under present conditions is hardly a poor man's game. The depth at which paying oil is found is 3000 feet or more, and a single shot costs from $20,000 to $50,000, and takes from three months to a year's time to complete.

Texas has great oil refineries at Fort Worth, about 75 miles from the new fields. Great oil tanks and pipe lines in the new dry Oklahoma fields are ready to be transported on cars on their way to the new grounds and the millions of capital already invested in oil by the big companies are available, indeed are said to have been at work for some time in pushing development in the new field. A plenty of petroleum products will lubricate the progress of the war as well as the thousand needs of peace. The world can hardly get along now without it, and while one may cynically doubt that new sources and increased supply will bring lower prices, it is good news at least that there will be plenty in place of a prophesied lack.

JOHN REDMOND.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

John Redmond had hoped to see home rule accomplished during his life. In this he was disappointed, but it is unquestionably true that the cause for which he labored so long and earnestly is nearer realization now than ever before. Redmond's work has borne fruit. The end of the war should be followed by its full fruition.

The "little man, square-faced and bearded"—as the now departed leader was described some years ago—was the interpreter of Ireland's home rule aspirations to the world as well as to England. His several trips to America built up an entente between Americans of Irish birth and parentage and their confederates in the home land which made thousands on this side of the Atlantic active partisans of the home rule movement.

It will long stand to Redmond's credit that when his country entered the present war of self-defense he counseled the fullest participation of the part of Ireland, and labored assiduously for bringing about that feeling of comradeship which has been reflected in glorious action on many a field of battle. Under the inspiration of his leadership and example much of the hostility that had been engendered by years of fighting for home rule disappeared. While urging in effect that the fight be suspended temporarily while England and Ireland joined in repelling their common enemy, he achieved at a stroke a victory that might otherwise have been delayed for years.

The war and Redmond's attitude toward the war taught Irish and English their kinship, their common aspirations and their common perils. One of the results of the conflict is a better mutual understanding, from which actual home rule will follow almost inevitably.

Some of the leader who has passed will be felt wherever human hearts respond to the stories of those who strive long and courageously for worthy ideals. Ireland's fight for self-determination will always be associated with the labors of the statesman, orator and gentleman who died suddenly in London last week.

MIGRATORY BIRD TREATY.

(Springfield Union.)

Despite the weight of burdens and multitude of problems pressing upon congress in recent times, it is an occasion for regret that the legislators have so long neglected to put in operation within United States borders the salutary provisions of the migratory bird treaty negotiated between England, Canada and our own country. The treaty was intended to extend the application of progressive legislation for the protection of game and insectivorous birds by giving the principle international scope, thus affording consistent protection all the way from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic. But while this purpose is most commendable, and the step one that is calculated to make conservationists, bird-lovers and others duly rejoice, enabling legislation is necessary to make it effective, and this has not as yet been provided. Inasmuch as this matter has been attended to on the British side, it is all the more to be desired that it be acted upon here at an early day. As a bill embodying the necessary provisions was recently given a favorable report by the senate committee on foreign relations, there is some ground for hope that the purpose will soon be realized.

There has never been a time when bird protection was so important to the nation as it is now, when the production of necessary food for ourselves and our allies is so much of a problem. Bird protection helps to simplify that undertaking, both by increasing the production of birds fit for food and—a factor of far greater moment—by affording the farmers a larger measure of removal of the sort rendered by insectivorous birds. If on no other ground, this matter deserves the prompt attention of congress.

THE PRUSSIAN POACHER DOESN'T BELIEVE IN SIGNS

MARKET YOUR OLD WHEAT.

(American Agriculturist.)

Sell your old wheat now, today. If you are still holding it, brother farmer, the need for it is critical—our brave boys at the front and our gallant allies must have it. The price will be no higher for 1917 wheat, nor it cannot be palmed off as the 1918 crop, for which the price will be 10 per cent more than was fixed months ago, or basis of $2.20 per bushel at Chicago for No. 1 northern spring, with modifications in grade that may benefit farmers by being based more nearly on milling value.

Another reason for selling now is that the grain can be hauled to railroad or market before mud time. Get this job done ahead of spring's work. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose by marketing your old wheat now. It is no longer a matter of price—your country needs your wheat.

So serious is the call for export wheat that last week the food administration revoked the purchase of its rule requiring the purchase of an equal amount of substitutes with each purchase of wheat. Reduce your use of wheat one-half to win the war.

French Sailing Ships Arriving.

One of the most important pieces of recent news is an unobtrusive dispatch from "an Atlantic port" mentioning that French sailing vessels of large size, from 2,800 to 5,000 tons, are beginning to arrive at American ports from South America. It is now nearly three months since it was announced that in return for steamers supplied by this country France would lend us 400,000 tons of sailers, which are not available for use in the barred zone. This dispatch mentions 21 vessels, which may be only an installment. Presumably they are bringing wheat to replace our exports, or to be re-shipped in steamers. There is a reasonable presumption that we are at last beginning to tap the wheat bins of Argentina.—Philadelphia Record.

A Good Decision.

The decision of Secretary Wilson to deport the alien members of the I. W. W., next to shooting them is probably the best thing that can be done in the matter. For every unlawful and unpatriotic assemblage there should be a firing squad. For every disloyal citizen there should be an executioner. The only man who is demanding the right of free speech and the privilege to say what he thinks is the one who speaks disloyalty and thinks in terms of treason. The surprising thing that confronts us, in spite of the admitted disloyalty of the I. W. W., is that the organization is permitted to exist at all.—Memphis News-Semitar.

Casualties.

"Many I. W. W. Casualties." That line in the day's dispatches from the front sends a shiver through the homes of these United States. From Maine to California we seem to hear the sighs of the mothers of the boys who are there fighting for liberty. Anxiously they await the more definite news of the glorious death or fortunate escape of their boys. They sigh and sigh, but "carry on." As we go on we will meet the casualties with fortitude, and know that every sacrifice was for humanity's sake. If we are to live and enjoy liberty we must pay. If we live and lose liberty, life will not count for much.—Washington Herald.

And girls, paperhangers' prices are simply a trifle! Then the window shades! I told Jack they were actually impossible but the landlord wouldn't get new ones so we had to do it ourselves. Last night I said to Jack, "Well, it has been awfully upsetting and uncomfortable but just think! We'll save twelve dollars a year!" He didn't say anything for a minute then he took out his pencil and said, "What was Vogelmeier's bill?" "Fifteen dollars," I said. "And how much did you pay Norton for the shades?" You know, girls, Jack is a perfect dear but sometimes he is an awful wet blanket! I went around and looked over his shoulder and there he had a long column of figures and above it he had written, "Expense of Moving." So I just said in my most dignified manner, "Oh, Well, Jack, if you're going to be disagreeable I think I'll just go upstairs."

SOCIAL EVENTS

SOCIETY EDITOR, AUTO PHONE 22122.

Members of the Newark Rotary club and their wives making a party of about ninety will go to Zanesville at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to attend the Rotary convention representing the states of Ohio, Michigan and West Virginia. The Zanesville club has made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the guests and the Newark club is to have a place on the program.

The members of the London Street social sewing club were very pleasantly entertained Wednesday, February 27th, at the home of Mrs. William Lewis. A delicious four course dinner was served to the following guests: Mesdames Ora Warner, Fred Moore, Grover Cooper, William Butt, Harry Butt, Herbert Gregg, Earle Lake, John Hammond, Sullivan Cullison, Angie Lake, Myrtle Spellman, James Bonnette and Alma Bonnette.

The table was beautifully decorated with sweet peas and ferns and the place cards were of the predominating colors, pink and green. The entertainment of the day consisted of a vocal solo by Mrs. Fred Moore, piano solo by Mrs. Sullivan Cullison, two readings by Mrs. E. R. Belmont, piano duet by Mrs. Fred Moore and Mrs. William Lewis. The meeting closed by singing "America," after which they adjourned to meet Mar. 13, with Mrs. James Bonnette.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of St. John's Lutheran church was held at the home of Mrs. F. C. Osburn, with Mrs. O. E. Cooper riding assisting on last Thursday.

A special program was rendered, it being the 12th anniversary of the organization of the society.

The program follows:
Piano solo—Miss Lillian Hirst.
Reading—Mrs. Chas. Tavenor.
Reading—Mrs. Ora Watson.
Recitation—Miss Helen Evans.
Reading—Mrs. Harold Hirst.
Duet—Mrs. Minnie Dumm.
Piano duet—Mrs. F. C. Osburn and Mrs. O. E. Cooper.
The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Taylor.

In keeping with the plan of the state organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution, to have hostesses each week at the hostess house at the D. A. R. lodge in Camp Sherman, Mrs. S. C. Priest and Mrs. John Sachs are acting as hostesses this week.

Mrs. Priest has been at the camp since Thursday and returns today, and Mrs. Sachs, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Martha Sachs, left today for Chillicothe where she will remain as hostess at the lodge until Thursday.

Miss Ida Weigand was hostess to the members of the Review club, Saturday afternoon, at her home, West Church street. Mrs. W. B. Nye gave an interesting paper on "The Bronx," and Mrs. Ida M. Tucker talked on "The Beaches."

Albright-Kettering.
Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Gladys Kettering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kettering of Muncie, Ind., but formerly of Newark, and Corporal Edgar Albright of Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala. The wedding was solemnized on Friday evening, March 8, by Rev. Dr. McCaslin, First Presbyterian minister.

The bride has been visiting in Montgomery for the past five weeks, and Mr. and Mrs. Albright came to Newark on a wedding trip, the bridegroom having an eight-day furlough.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Albright of Clinton street, this city, and enlisted with Battery C, 134th F. A., leaving May 31 for Camp Perry, and was later stationed

Mr. Kettering, father of the bride, was one of the originators of a talking machine manufactured by local interests, and the family resided in Dewey avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Albright, parents of the bridegroom, who have been visiting their son in the south, since December, returned to Newark with their son and his bride. A brother of Corporal Albright, William, also spent a part of the winter in Montgomery.

Corporal Albright, who was formerly employed in the composing room of The Advocate, works in the evening at camp on the mailing machine of The Revelle, which is the only daily paper to be issued daily by soldiers.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Jones gave a surprise party at their home, south of the city, March 7, in honor of their daughter Lillian's birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in music and games, after which refreshments were served to the following guests:

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Jones, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Conley, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones, Mrs. Ed Jones, Mrs. E. Casler and three children, Misses Mary Brownfield, Margaret Lake, Carrie Jones, Mary Ulrey, Nellie Davidson, Hallie Davidson, Gretchen Griffith, Eunice Griffith, Mary Vogelmeier, Mary Mitchell, Florence Bowers, Lillian Jones, Floyd Mitchell, George Brownfield, Carl Fields, Larus Snorr, Paul Snorr, Ed Williams, Howard Rose, Arnold Meckler, Ralph Ulrey and Edward Vogelmeier.

THE COURTS

Seeks New Trial.

A motion was filed late Saturday afternoon in common pleas court for a new trial in the case of Eliza Cramer vs. Judson T. Slick.

The case was submitted to the court by the defendant on a motion to have some money, held by the sheriff, amounting to $400, set off to him in lieu of a homestead. The court sustained the motion and ordered the sheriff to pay the money over to the defendant.

Commissioners View Bridges.
The county commissioners left this morning to view the bridge west of Alexandria, which, it is reported, is about to be washed away. During the high water the abutment on one side was washed away and the bridge was in such condition that it could not be repaired.

Divorce Petition.

A petition for divorce was filed today in probate court by Frances Barr against John Barr. The parties were married on December 25, 1916. The plaintiff says that the defendant has been guilty of gross neglect and extreme cruelty in that when he came home in an intoxicated condition he was abusive and quarrelsome and encouraged his children in abominable and disobedience to the plaintiff.

Custody of minor child awarded to defendant; plaintiff given right to visit child at all reasonable times. $5 a week to be paid by plaintiff for support of child. Plaintiff ordered to pay costs.

CORN MEAL AND MEAT A FINE COMBINATION

Here is a Tamale Pie recommended by the Food Administration. Corn meal is good combined with meats. Such a dish is a meal in itself. Try this one.

Tamale Pie.
2 cups corn meal.
6 cups water.
1 tablespoon fat.
1 onion.
2 cups tomatoes.
1 pound hamburger steak.

Make a mush by stirring the corn meal and 1 1-2 teaspoons salt into boiling water. Cook 45 minutes. Brown onion in fat, add hamburger and stir until red color disappears. Add salt, pepper, and tomato. A sweet pepper is an addition. Grease baking dish, put in layer of corn meal mush, add seasoned meat, and cover with mush. Bake one-half hour. Serves six.

Food is the most precious thing in the world. How much can you raise this year?—U. S. Food Administration.

It's all right to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, provided you can afford to lose your friends.

OLD FASHIONED FAMILY OF TEN CHILDREN ALL KEEP WELL AND STRONG WITH FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

The Body Building Food Tonic With 60 Years of Success—For Colds and Coughs

Read this message from Mattoon, Ill. "I have used Father John's Medicine for the past three years. I give it to all my children and think there is nothing like it for keeping them well and strong." Signed, MRS. S. V. HILL. Father John's Medicine is the family remedy in thousands of homes because mothers know it is a pure and wholesome tissue building food, free from alcohol or dangerous drugs, best for colds, coughs and as a tonic and body builder for those who are weak and run down.

Milady's Boudoir

Telephonic Beauty.

Beauty does not all consist of personal appearance. Manners, personality, graceful gestures and movements and your voice, all enter in to make your whole being attractive and interesting. There is one situation, occurring every day, however, when your attractiveness depends on just one thing; your voice. I refer to telephone conversations.

There are many well bred women who seem to shed all their fine manners when talking over the wire, and probably among your own circle of friends there are several such. The person who does the calling usually has to take the initiative, but surely the "called" can help things along somewhat and grease the wheels, as it were, by first a purely formal but agreeable "hello" and then, when the caller's identity is manifest, a pleasant "good morning" or some little pleasantry to a cheery greeting as if you were glad to hear from the friend.

There is Mrs. C. who may never have visited your home but who has called you frequently. "I want to speak to Miss Jones" are the words with which Mrs. C. opens the conversation. Now, if Mrs. C. called at your home and your mother answered the door, Mrs. C. would, on sight, assume her to be a member of the family and would, thereupon, how smile and say politely, "Is Miss Jones at home?" and she might even venture, if she fancied she caught a family resemblance: "This is Mrs. Jones, is it not?"

But over the phone Mrs. C. assumes any voice not personally known to her, must be either that of the person at the switchboard or "central" to neither of whom, of course, any feelings are attributed. Again, are we always civil to "central"? If through some error we are called to the phone, are we not apt to be pretty savage in our retort? It is courteous to be polite over the phone just as we would be if we met the same person face to face.

Our Boys and Girls

The average outfit of the average baby should be, first of all, a little, loosely knitted vest, especially valuable on account of its warmth, lightness and porous qualities. It should be made double breasted and lined with long sleeves. This, in addition to a warm hat, will make two of the most important garments.

The next important thing must be a flannel petticoat, and this should be made long enough to pin over baby's feet with safety pins when there is any danger from cold, as when a child is taken out of doors. Then should come a washing frock with long sleeves.

These are really all that is needed, although there is no reason why a petticoat of fine lawn, made on the same lines as the flannel one, and a frock of similar fine muslin or lawn which may be substituted for the stouter washing frock when fancy or the occasion dictates.

NEED FOR HOME GARDENS CALLS FOR WORK IN EVERY BACK YARD

IN 1918, Every family must help feed itself. Fresh vegetables must be used to lessen home consumption of foods needed by troops and the Allies.

Home-produced food must lessen demand on railroads and other deliveries.

More food must be canned in homes than ever before.

There must be a war garden in every backyard fertile and sunny enough to grow vegetables.

Every seed planted must be made to count in the food supply.

—U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

"The obligation of every man, woman and child, out of uniform to help feed the nation is as plain as the nose on his face in 1917. Therefore the home gardening and canning activities of last year must be repeated."

This is the message of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Home Food Plots Like These Help the Home Table and the Home Pocket-book. They Help the Nation, Too.

States Department of Agriculture to every family. "Those who cannot produce, can conserve and save food. There must be no backsliding among experienced gardeners; they must repeat their contribution of food. Absence of novelty must not deter those who tried gardening for the first time in 1917. Frequenting the garden, increased knowledge and skill. Those with experience must help thousands of beginners to make every seed count to the satisfaction of the nation."

And now a word of caution. Don't plant more than you can cultivate. Don't try to raise more than you can use. And water systematically all spring and summer. A few square yards well filled will yield more than a half acre allowed to run to weeds.

The Department advises strongly against effort by suburban gardeners to produce truck crops for sale. Such enterprises commonly prove unwise, burdensome to all concerned, and do not frequently financially profitable.

Much precious seed and labor to say nothing of time and money, were wasted in such undertakings. The Government's home gardening specialists believe that best results will be attained if each family attempts to raise enough vegetables to supply its own table and to afford the surplus which its members can dry, can, or store for the winter season.

The gardener who has provided for his family and has surplus to spare, can produce the maximum yield.

Most owners of small gardens are content to raise a single crop on each plot of land at their disposal, but it is quite possible to grow two or three crops of some vegetables in one season.

Frost kills likely to injure vegetables planted on high ground than those planted in low places or valleys into which the heavier cold air commonly settles.

Intensive culture and carefully arranged rotations will help make every inch of available space in the small garden produce the maximum yield.

FOOD IS AMMUNITION

The Florist. Examiner—You are quite sure that this is a purely original composition you have handed in? I must say the wording sounds strangely familiar.

Florist—Possibly you have run across some of the words in the dictionary.—Judge.

Every Day Etiquette

"Will you please tell me what is the proper way to reply to an invitation written on a visiting card?" asked Mazie.

"Such an invitation is acknowledged in the third person and note paper is used for the purpose," answered her mother.

BUT LITTLE DAMAGE RESULTS FROM STORM OF SATURDAY NIGHT

A violent wind storm, part of the storm of cyclonic proportion, which swept over the state Saturday night, visited Newark, and a gale raged from early Saturday evening until early Sunday morning.

No great damage was done in Newark and vicinity, but the wind carried off many movable signs, roofs, and fences.

The tin roof on the building occupied by William Sauer and family in Cedar street was ripped off and part of the timbers torn out. The large fence which fronted the plumbing yard of Karl Reinhold in North Fourth street, was lifted off of place by the wind and carried a small distance by the gale.

A show case in front of the West Main street entrance to the Roe Emerson store was overturned and broken. A part of the roof of the Five Point Grocery was torn loose, and small signs and limbs of trees were strewn over the town.

The telephone companies suffered some damage but not extensively.

TUSCANIA SURVIVOR WRITES SISTER HERE; LOCATED IN FRANCE

Mrs. Roy Lentz of DeCraw avenue, has received a letter from her brother, Charles W. Rinehart, who was one of the survivors of the Tuscania, which was recently sent to the bottom by a submarine. He has evidently arrived in France, as he gives as his address the "20th Engineers, Company D, 6th Battalion, A. F. F. via New York."

In his letter he spoke of the disaster and told of the coolness and good heart of the officers and men, and said "that is the reason so many were saved because they worked quickly and did not lose their heads. Everything worked wonderfully well, but things were sure lively for a while."

He says he is feeling fine and in the best of health, and that things are just beginning to get green and it looks like spring.

OHIO MAN DIES IN AVIATION SERVICE WHILE IN FRANCE

Washington, March 11.—The navy department today announced the death of Andrew D. Skaggs and Leo S. Harvie, as the result of an aeroplane accident in the naval aviation service in France. Skaggs lived at Newburn, Tenn., and Harvie at 1324 Ray street, Cincinnati, Ohio. Details of the accident and the date were not given.

TWELVE KILLED WHEN WALL FALLS ON MOVIE THEATRE IN KENTUCKY

Winchester, Ky., March 11.—Twelve persons were killed, ten of whom were children 23 persons so severely injured it was found necessary to remove them to a Clark county hospital, and about 30 others less seriously hurt here Saturday night when the walls of a burned building adjoining a moving picture theater collapsed, crushing in its roof.

TWO AMERICANS KILLED IN THE LONDON AIR RAID

London, March 11.—The bodies of Mrs. Lena Guilbert Ford, an American poetess and her son, about 30 years old, were discovered today; the wreckage of a plane destroyed in the German air raid last week. In this house 12 persons were killed.

Mrs. Ford formerly lived in Elmira, N. Y. She was the author of "Keep the Home Fires Burning," one of the most popular of the English war songs.

SENTENCED TO LONG TERMS IN LEAVENWORTH PRISON

Camp Dodge, Iowa, March 11.—Found guilty by a general court martial for refusing to obey orders, eight national army men from St. Paul, Minn., all professed socialists have been sentenced to long terms of imprisonment in the Leavenworth penitentiary it was announced today. A. S. Broms was given 20 years and the other seven were sentenced to 25 years confinement, all at hard labor.

PREVENTED AUSTRIANS FROM CROSSING RIVER

ome, March 11.—Austrian troops which apparently were making an attempt to cross the river Piave, were prevented from doing so yesterday by the Italian batteries which sank rafts and boats in the river opposite Fagare, the war office announced today.

ACCEPTS AMENDMENT

Washington, March 11.—The senate tentatively accepted today without a record vote an amendment to the urgent deficiency bill authorizing President Wilson to acquire title to the docks and piers owned by the North German-Lloyd company and the Hamburg-American company at Hoboken, N. J.

SIMPLE THINGS WORTH WHILE

Many Make Mistake of Thinking Happiness Comes Only From Material or Outward Conditions.

Why should you care to be pestered with a large bank account or distressed by a house full of servants? asks the Albuquerque Evening Herald, which adds: Adam and Eve had neither of these and they called their place of abode Paradise. Few people have learned the secret of living well. Too many think it depends almost wholly on the condition of the pocketbook. This is most certainly a mistake. Happiness is not born of material or outward conditions. It is largely the result of a purely mental process.

Amid the duller threads of duty it is well to weave one bright strand of desire—it is well to mix a little sunshine with your daily food. You can soften the sound of cab and car in the stony street by calling to memory a bird's song heard in the fields on a summer afternoon in childhood. It is sweeter to your soul—if you have one—than is the railroad that you own yourself.

Take a day off and go out to some cemetery where you may reflect on the brevity of life and the insufficiency of things pertaining to the pocketbook. It is better that you go before it comes your turn to ride out there in the big plumed car that never hauls its load back again. Don't wait until you own your private automobile, but go while you are able to walk and to think. From the dead you may learn much of life. Scan all the virtues inscribed upon all the headstones by loving hands—and among them all you will not find recorded the possession of a million dollars or a docked-tail horse or a brownstone palace or a 12-cylinder car or a "handsome" wardrobe.

IDEAS CURIOUS AND POETIC

Remarkable Beliefs That Have Been Firmly Ingrained into the Children of Siam.

Mr. Ernest Young, who went to Siam to organize the educational system, related at London recently some curious beliefs held by the children there. He explained that he had experienced considerable difficulty in teaching them the rudiments of science. They believed that the earth was flat because the priest had told them so. It was also the impression of these children that a big crab went down into the sea and made the tide flow, and when the crab came up for fresh air the tide ebbed. When the gods became angry rolling thunder was heard, and when the angels got sport and struck fire out of bricks, summer lightning flashes were seen. When many angels got into the bath at the same time water ran over the side and it rained.

Directly Mr. Young entered a school the children prostrated themselves before him, and the only way they could be induced to abandon this practice was to tell them that English children did not do that. They would do anything English children were said to do. They were awful liars, but when told that the English boy was truthful they gave up the habit.

Precious Stones in British Crown

There are no less than 3,000 stones in the crown of the British king. Some very famous jewels are included in this number. One of these is a large heart-shaped ruby, given to Edward, the Black Prince, in 1367, by Don Pedro of Castile. Another precious jewel of the crown is a huge sapphire, bought by George IV. The remaining jewels consist of 1,363 brilliant diamonds, 1,273 rose diamonds, 147 table diamonds, 277 pearls, 16 sapphires, 11 emeralds and four rubies. Complete with its white silk lining and purple cap, the crown weighs slightly more than 30 ounces.

Chinese Canals

At what period the Chinese began to dig canals, there is no authentic record to prove. Sometimes it seems as if these remarkable people must always have had canals and other works, so long have they been familiar to them and so well established have they been as a part of the country as the men from the Occident first visited it. One thinks of the Grand Canal of China and the Great Wall of China together, although, of course, they have nothing whatever to do with each other, except that they are both ancient and remarkable works of the Chinese people.

Don't Envy Others

Idle women, or women who seem to be spared anything that savors of work, are never happy or satisfied. Persons who live aimless lives simply cannot be happy.

Let the woman given to envying those "fortunate" but in reality lazy and listless individuals, ponder seriously over this truth, become interested in some worthwhile duty of the hour, and try to forget herself. If she does this she will find any time to waste in idle wishing, but, on the other hand, will experience a contentment delightfully new and satisfying.

Glassmaking Old Industry

Glassmaking in Venice is of remote antiquity. By a law of November 8, 1291, the authorities of Venice to avoid the risk of fire, ordered the glassmaking industry to be transferred to the adjacent island of Murano. Ever since Murano has been the most important center for hand-made glass and glass-based manufacture in the world.

HUPP FILES SUIT FOR A DIVORCE.

Cleveland, March 11.—Attorney William L. David, late this afternoon filed a divorce petition for Elmer Hupp on the grounds of extreme cruelty on the part of Mrs. Ethel Hupp.

Attorney David defended Hupp when he was acquitted last week for second degree murder charged with having killed Charles L. Joyce whom he found in the Hupp home on the night of January 10 in the company of Mrs. Hupp.

FOUR OF CREW DROWN.

Philadelphia, March 11.—Four men, comprising the crew of the barge Hampshire are believed to have been lost when the vessel broke loose from a tow probably in last night's high wind and sank three and one-half miles northeast by east of five fathom bank lightship, off the Delaware capes.

Lindley Murray.

Lindley Murray was a noted Anglo-American grammarian, who lived from 1745 to 1826. He was born at Swatara, Pa. In 1784, at the age of thirty-nine years, he settled in England, and it was there that he compiled and published his English grammar and English spelling book that gave him considerable prominence in his own time and for which he is remembered today.

His "Den" Always Neat.

"There, now," said the newspaper man's wife. "This room is to be your den. To do as you please with it. I shall not clean it up at any time. You may throw your papers around on the floor until you are sick of the looks of it. Then you may clean it up yourself, if it ever becomes so bad it offends your sense of decency." The plan was a great success. No room in the house is nearer immaculateness than the den. It is kept so by the newspaper man himself, who does his reading and writing and paper throwing exclusively in the dining room.—Kansas City Star

Visited Parents.
Sergeant Willis Handel of Camp
Sherman, spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Columbia street. He stated that a large number of the boys had left the camp to fill the National Guard units stationed in different parts of the country. Sergeant Handel returned to camp Sunday evening.

Red Cross Drive in May.
The second Red Cross war fund drive for $100,000,000, originally scheduled for the week beginning May 6, has been postponed until the week beginning May 20. This change of dates is made in accordance with instructions from the American Red Cross war council at Washington. Fear that it might detract even slightly from the forthcoming Liberty loan campaign prompted the Red Cross to postpone the date of its drive for two weeks.

city early Saturday evening, was taken in tow by local patrolmen under orders from Zaneville ordering his arrest. He will be held here until Zaneville officers arrive for him today.

Tags Going Fast.
Chief of Police Sheridan, made another trip to Columbus Saturday to secure more automobile tags. Already 300 tags had been brought to the city, even after it was thought that nearly all machines had the new licenses. The 300 were disposed of,
and out of the 100 brought back Saturday 29 had been sold early Monday morning.

Author of Magazine Article.
Captain Charles W. Whitehair,
who spoke at the high school auction on February 5 on the war and the terrible sights that he had seen while working with the boys of the armies over there, has written an article on the same subject and it ap-

took the examination left for Washington on Saturday.

On Way East.
Charles E. Jeffers and A. E. Macfarland of Maple avenue and Chas.
E. Johnson and Paul Rosecrans, all well known young men of this city were in Buffalo Friday and Saturday taking in the sights and incidentally enjoyed a sleigh ride around the city in a sight-seeing bus. They expected to visit Niagara Falls and see the wonders of the place in winter time, after which they will leave for the east after having reported to the draft board at Niagara.

Special Services.
There will be special services at the Woodside Presbyterian church all this week. A group of students from Denison university will speak each evening and singing will be led by Herbert Young of the college glee club. The song service will begin at street, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

THE SOLDIER MOTHER.
M. J. Kuster, manager of the Inter-
City Tea company's store in this city, has gained prominence throughout the country by a poem published in the Retail Clerks' Advocate last month.
Mr. Heck has written another and is submitting it to the approval of his fellow citizens. It follows:

The soldier mother who gave her boys
That we might live in peace,
Through the grace of the God we love
May have her faith increased.

For 'tis with Him who rules the world
And guides the nation's right,
Our boys grope through the mists of
war,
Determined to win this fight.

And will He not our conscience clear
Who do not strive for gain,
But for a world-wide liberty
That war come not again.

Oh, Mother, you whose boys have gone
For perilous seas so deep,
Can see them as they keep their watch
In arms that you might sleep.

Yet will the day be born again,
When war has ebbed away,
You'll be so proud your soldier son
Has helped to win the day.

That all the world might live in peace
In love and liberty,
Yes, even our enemies,
This will your victory be.

Many a man refuses to recognize
An opportunity unless it is spelled with a big O.

Many a man has a yielding disposition, especially where temptation is concerned.

TAR SOCIAL OF

YACHT CLUB TO

BE FINE AFFAIR

Harry B. Coen, manager of the Ford agency of this city, and member of the entertainment committee of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club, stated today that arrangements were under way for the thirteenth annual tar social of the club, and that it would be held Thursday, March 21,
in Columbus, at the Elks club rooms,
East Broad street.

There are about 40 members from
this city, the majority of whom expect to attend. The festivities start at 6 o'clock and the committee of three—Messrs. Harry B. Coen, Geo.
W. Pierce and Harley Hoskins—announce that one of the best entertainments of recent years will be given, and that will be going some for those who have attended the yearly tar socials know that a royal treat is always arranged for the guests.

Rear Commodore Wm C. Wells,
of this city, recently attended a meeting in Columbus at which all yacht club officers were present and agreed to make this year's tar social the happiest of them all, sparing neither pains or expense in the luncheon and entertainment. Ed Browne, of this city, has charge of the tickets and they can be procured from him at $2.50 each. The sale will close next Monday, March 18.

HAS MADE SEVERAL

TRIPS TO FRANCE

Mrs. Annie Kussmaul has received a telegram from her son, Clarence,
stating that he had secured a furlough and expects to arrive in Newark tonight. He is in active service in the navy and has made several trips to France and no doubt will have some interesting tales to tell of his experiences.

FOOD EXPERT TO

SPEAK HERE ON

CONSERVATION

Dr. Julius Lincoln, who is to lecture at the High school auditorium, Monday evening, March 18, was formerly with the United States food commission in France. He has studied the food problem from every angle and is well prepared to enlighten the citizens of this city on the many food problems which are confronting them in these times of
war.

The local committee for the arrangement of this program is, composed of Mrs. Henry Fleck, Mrs. E.
T. Johnson, Mrs. Dr. H. J. Davis,
T. J. Appleyard and H. A. Atherton.

The Sick

Miss Iva McCracken has returned to her work at the W. H. Mazy store after being confined to her home for the past ten days because of illness.

Bradley's ambulance removed Oren Lucas from the City Hospital to his home, 41 Summit street, Sunday.

Mrs. Virtue Perry is detained at her home in Hudson avenue, because of the illness of her mother.

The condition of H. L. Fulton who was operated on at the city hospital last Thursday by Dr. Drury of Grant hospital of Columbus continues favorable.

Claudia Muzio Sings Two National Songs of Italy.

Italian prima donna records Garibaldi hymn and Italian war song for Pathe March program.

Admirers of Claudia Muzio's lovely voice will welcome two new Pathe recordings by that versatile Metropolitan opera house star: Two songs of her native land, sung in her mother tongue—the Italian National air,
"Inno de Guerr del Cacciatori" and
"Canzone Guerresca," the latter
the favorite song of the Italian soldier.

Mischa Violin, the talented young Russian violin virtuoso, makes his debut to the musical-recordings
world through the Pathe March list
For his initial recordings he has chosen Kreisler's "Tambourin Chinois" and Beethoven's "Minnet in G
No. 2."

Other numbers on the list are:
Schubert's "Lied" (Sunshine Song)
and Schubert's "Swiss Echo Song," two song gems of sparkling brilliancy, sung by Grace Hoffman, famed coloratura soprano.

"Lady Moon" (Bruhn) and "Warrior Bold" (Adams), sung by David Bispham.

"Spring Song" (Mendelssohn) and
"Maiden's Wish" (Chopin-Liszt), by Rudolph Ganz, renowned pianist.

"Souvenir" (Drills) and "The Blush Rose" by Jan Rubini, the distinguished violinist.

In addition to a number of instrumental selections, classics and patriotic, there are listed the following popular song hits from the season's best musical comedies:

"Wait Till the Cows Come Home"
from "Jack O'Lantern"; "Any Time's Kissing Time" from "Chu Chin-Chow"; "There's a Green Hill Out in Flanders"; "Chimes of Normandy";
"Sweetness"; "Mandy Lou"; "My Sweeties"; "York-A-Hilo Town";
"Hush-a-bye, My Baby"; "They Needed an Angel in Heaven"; "Give Me the Midnight"; "Give Me the Morning"; "Hello! I've Been Looking For You" from "The Big Show"
(New York Hippodrome); "There's a Long, Long Trail" etc., all sung
by favorite artists.

Six up-to-the-minute dance melodies lend a lovely finish to a well-selected program—among them "The Land Where the Good Songs Go," a medley fox-trot from "Miss 1917,"
and the tuneful "Twilight Waltz."

You never can tell. Even the happiest man may be able to take his own part.

10,640 TONS OF COAL

WERE HANDLED BY THE

FUEL ADMINISTRATOR

The great amount of work done
by the fuel administration in the past three months is shown by the record file at the office in the Chamber of Commerce building. Beginning December 10 and continuing until March 9 the office received and issued orders for 10,640 tons of coal.
Of this number Charles McNeal hailed 1244 1-2 tons from the Hopewell mines to this city by automobile trucks. The administration secured 22 cars of coal exclusive of those received by the dealers, and turned them over to the dealers for delivery. These cars contained 189 tons of coal.

The fuel administrator, J. S. Herzog, and his assistant, W. H. Stage, deserve a great amount of praise for
the way in which they handled the coal situation in the city during the recent cold weather.

Many a woman these days is waiting to be as thrifty about clothes as she is in other things. It will interest her to see our new coats and suits because in them we can point out several special features of tailoring and fabrics, not often found in suits and coats from $25.00 up.

This is a good time to save on clothes and have you ever stopped to think of

THE ADVANTAGE OF CHOOSING
YOUR SPRING SUIT, COAT OR DRESS
EARLY IN THE SEASON?

First, you have the pleasure of wearing a new style garment while it is really new. There is surely pleasure and not a little distinction in being among the first to wear the new modes. Then, you have so much longer to enjoy being dressed in the season's smart new fashions—a whole season instead of just a part of it. Then, too, the early styles are the best creations of the tailors, for the reason that more time is given during the designing season to the tailoring, thus insuring better garments than those made after the rush of the season is on.

SO IF YOU ARE IN EARNEST ABOUT BEING THRIFTY, you can readily see that the early bought garment is PROFESSOR CHAMBERLAIN LEAVES TOMORROW FOR FORT OGLETHORPE, GA.

(Special to The Advocate.)

Granville, March 11.—It has been known since last spring after the entrance of the United States into the war, that Dr. Willis A. Chamberlain, professor of language and literature in Denison university, had immediately offered his services to the government in any branch of service where he could best serve his country. It has also been known that he has kept up his military drill with the students and that no duty has been too strenuous for him to perform. He has been recognized as a government worker in many ways, but it comes as a surprise to his large circle of friends, that he will leave tomorrow to assume the duties of signal officer in the reserve corps at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., which is located some forty miles distant from Chattanooga, with the commission of first lieutenant. Professor Chamberlain has been granted leave of absence from the university for an indefinite period. His withdrawal even temporarily will be keenly felt, not only in college circles but in the church and in civic affairs where he has been one of the most reliable and public spirited men in the community. He is an American to his finger tips; a devoted patriot; a gentleman born and bred, and with his highly trained faculties of mind and body can not fail to be a credit and a help to Uncle Sam wherever placed.

Several war relief workers of the village received fresh inspiration and incentive for renewed efforts by attending the luncheon in the Elks club in Columbus Saturday noon at which Miss Anne Morgan, treasurer of the A. F. F. W. in France, was a guest of honor and principal speaker, and the meeting in Memorial hall in the evening at which no such war time crowd has ever assembled save for such notables as President Wilson, ex-President Roosevelt, and a few national figures. If any there were who struggled for a place in that throng simply from curiosity to see and to hear "Pierpont Morgan's daughter," they came away impressed with the devotion and the sacrifice of this young woman who was reared in luxury and who might now be living a life of less strenuous effort. Among those who attended from Granville were Mrs. Frank Ray, Mrs. Cochran, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Mrs. Case. There were others who spent the week-end with Columbus friends.

Many inquiries have been received by Granville friends of Dwight Sample, who has been in the British army since the beginning of the war, as to the truth of reports recently made that he had been seriously wounded. The following excerpts from a letter written by his own hand to a Granville friend, will reveal all that is known in the village of his present condition:

Still in France but have been moved since writing last. Am in one of the base hospitals now. They X-rayed my leg the morning after and reset it, and I have been quite comfortable ever since.

I am in rather a small ward only 20 beds. All broken legs and arms and most of them much worse than mine.

Doctor says I may go across to England soon but is very close mouthed about how long I may be on my back. The sisters are very kind and I am in no pain. So it is not hard to be resigned, especially as I'm missing the trenches in the winter time. We are carried outside most every afternoon for a couple of hours, as the weather is very pleasant and hope it will last.

The following elections to Phi Beta Kappa were announced at chapel on March 6 by Prof. W. H. Johnson, vice president of the Denison chapter; Misses Ethel Garland, Mary Benoy, Edna Shumaker, Mary Rowley, Alice Beers, and Mr. Stanley Bash. Three members of the class of 1918 were granted the honor last year, Misses Lucille Tilbe, Grace Johnson and Mr. Alfred Johnson. The present junior class is represented by the election of Mr. Charles T. Burner. This announcement is usually made on the occasion of an address by some noted speaker before the society, but owing to prevailing conditions this custom was abandoned for the present. In the absence of the president, Dr. R. S. Colwell, dean of the university, the vice president presided, and was assisted in the presentation service by Dr. Willis A. Chamberlain, secretary of the society.

Mrs. Alfred D. Cole of Columbus, formerly Miss Emily Downer of Granville, expects to attend the spring festival next Saturday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Otto Engwerson also will make the pilgrimage besides a number of other Columbus musicians.

A gratifying attendance at the second meeting of the township committee of the Council of National Defense on Saturday afternoon, attested the interest felt by the women of the community in the work the government is requiring of them. Miss Eva Robinson presided in the absence of the chairman, and Mrs. John Thomas was acting secretary.

Mrs. J. M. Swartz was announced as chairman of the food conservation committee; Mrs. C. D. Coons of child welfare; Mrs. Fred McCollum educational propaganda; and at such time as these further services shall be demanded; Miss Jane Williams will organize for stenographic service; Mrs. Helen Hunt in collaboration with the Red Cross for civilian relief; Mrs. E. P. Cook, nursing; Mrs. John Owen, women's industries. The executive committee will make recommendations later as to the gardening, the Liberty loan, the community house, health and sanitation, etc. Miss Edna Endly was present and on invitation, gave an interesting and helpful talk.

Mr. and Mrs. John Swartz of Newark were guests of their parents, Judge and Mrs. J. M. Swartz over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Babb of Dayton, formerly Miss Dorothy Swartz, are expected to attend the spring festival on Saturday. The New York Philharmonic is worth going miles to hear and to see.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

The War Savings Stamps sales in Licking county for the week ending March 7, amounted to $14,418. The sales for the previous week were $28,251. The total sales are $209,405 or about $3.50 per capita. The sales to reach the amount asked by the government should average $24,000 a week and should amount to $20 for every resident of the county during the year 1918.

Those who have bought 200 War Savings Stamps for their own use are requested to send names and addresses to the chairman of the Licking County War Savings Committee promptly in order that certificates of membership in the Ohio One Thousand Dollar War Savings Society may be mailed to them. These certificates are signed by Governor Cox and by State Director Wolfe. The names of Licking County members in the Thousand Dollar club are to be published.

Sixty-five per cent of the Newark public school children are buying War Savings Stamps. The pupils here have bought $17,375.50 worth of stamps in the past eight weeks, their purchases for the week ending March 9, being $1,286.75.

Rev. Geo. B. Schmitt will give an illustrated war lecture at Utica to-morrow night followed by a War Savings address by Prof. H. E. Moninger. Mr. Schmitt will show 500 stereoscopic views of French cathedrals ruined by German shells.

Through the Licking county banks last week $3,599 worth of War Savings Stamps were sold, through the Granville postoffice $1,265; through the Newark postoffice and the other 22 postoffices of the county, $9,554.

The Licking County Bank & Trust Company had the largest sale of War Savings Stamps last week.

The Newark Trust Company is credited with having sold more War Savings Stamps to date than any other financial institution in Licking county to date though all of the Newark banks are making a splendid record and a number of the village banks, notably Utica, Johnstown, Hebron and Croton, have done exceptionally well.

Have you joined the $1,000 Ohio War Savings Society? Become a member by buying 200 War Savings Stamps costing this month $828. The stamps increase in value every month, are not taxable and your money back whenever you want it by giving 10 days' notice. Ask your banker, postmaster or mail carrier.

Here is the eighth report of stamp sales to Newark school children for the week ending, March 9:

POSTPONE RED CROSS DRIVE TO WEEK OF MAY 20

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, March 11.—The second Red Cross war fund drive for $160,000,000 originally scheduled for the week beginning May 6 has been postponed until the week beginning May 20. R. F. Grant, drive director for the Lake division, announced today.

This change of dates is made in accordance with instructions from the American Red Cross war council at Washington. Fear that it might detract even slightly from the forthcoming Liberty Loan campaign prompted the Red Cross to postpone the date of its drive for two weeks. Mr. Grant today announced the names of the men who will serve as state drive managers in the Lake division.

Charles L. Bradley of Cleveland will serve as the Ohio manager. He is already at work on his plans as Ohio has a quota of $6,400,000, the largest state quota in the Lake division.

Charles F. Coffin, of Indianapolis, is to be the Indiana drive manager. His state has been given a quota of $2,100,000.

John R. Downing, of Lexington, has accepted the Kentucky state managership. Kentucky's quota is $900,000.

Maj. Gen. H. C. Hale.

Maj. Gen. Harry C. Hale, back at Camp Zachary Taylor after three months in France on an inspection and schooling trip, had the novel experience of evading injury over there and on two ocean voyages only to be injured in a train wreck in this country on his way back to camp from the seaboard.

Knew His Place.

Sister Smith was called upon for testimony in a revival meeting. She humbly declined in these words:

"I have been a transgressor and a blacksheep for a good many years and have only recently seen the light. I believe that my place is in a dark corner behind the door."

Brother Jones was next called upon. Following Sister Smith's meek example, he said:

"I, too, have been a sinner for more than forty years, and I do not think I ought to stand before you as a model. I think my place is behind the door, in a dark corner, with Sister Smith."—Ladies Home Journal.

JOHN NEWLON OF MANSFIELD PAYS A WARM TRIBUTE

Tells His Druggist How Quickly Nerv-Worth Bettered Health of Self and Wife.

The improvement was so marked that Nerv-Worth is now a staple in the Newlon medicine chest. But let Mr. Newlon tell the story:

Tawse Pharmacy—My wife was under a severe nervous strain for over five years and, as a result, had become extremely nervous. She took a good many different remedies with very little success until recently we both started to take Nerv-Worth, myself occasionally having dizzy spells, resulting from a sunstroke. We both took one bottle of Nerv-Worth and were greatly benefited and can recommend it most highly to anyone. We keep a bottle at all times.

Yours truly,
JOHN NEWLON,
Mansfield, O.

SPECIAL ON PAINT WHILE IT LASTS

The Government in its wise conservation orders to help win the war, has called on all Paint Manufacturers to reduce the number of colors they have been making. We have always carried a full line of Sun Proof Paint are going to make a SPECIAL PRICE on the colors that have been cut out of this fine line and we want our customers to take advantage of this CUT PRICE.

You should bear in mind that this is a high grade paint and while these shades may not please they will be fine for priming and first coating.

Remember, paint is advancing and you cannot afford to miss this bargain.
